WE NOMINATE

Sylvia Spencer Welch, the daughter of teachers, the wife of one of Princeton University's truly great teachers and the gentle, guiding spirit who has taught others how music can become a compelling, unifying force in a growing community. This weekend, as the Princeton Symphony presents Roger Sessions' opera in one act, The Trial of Lucullus, nearly 160 Princetonians—representing all segments of Princeton, from the High School and Columbus Boychoir School to the University, the Westminster Choir College and the Institute for Advanced Study—will be personifying something Mrs. Welch has long maintained: "Music is the one language in which you cannot say a mean or sarcastic thing."

It was in 1934 that the late Roy Dickinson Welch and Mrs. Welch began their Princeton career. Professor Welch, the founder of the University's Department of Music, who in 16 years succeeded in developing a sub-section of the Department of Art and Archaeology into an independent department with 15 faculty members and some 600 students enrolled in its courses, died in 1951. Since then Mrs. Welch, the grandmother of six, has devoted her energies to aiding the musical interests that were, and are, her husband's and her life. She is Executive Vice-President of the five-year old Princeton Symphony as well as President of the 500-member Friends of Music at Princeton and Secretary of the University Concerts Committee.

During their early years at Smith College, which began in 1920 and subsequently included two years in Europe in the 1930's on a Guggenheim grant, the Welches together "illustrated" all of Professor Welch's lectures—"either with two pianos or with four hands on one piano." With the establishment of their home here, Mrs. Welch found herself more and more engrossed with their four children and with helping her husband strengthen the ideas that made him the leader in defining the place of music within the framework of the liberal arts and in formulating the principles of music-teaching presently recognized in the nation's liberal arts colleges and universities.

While persons of exceptional talent frequently have difficulty in pinpointing the "opening up" of their interest in a given field, Mrs. Welch, now 62 and born in Switzerland of American parents, recalls that a concert by Paderewski in Philadelphia's Witherspoon Hall marked the beginning of her lifelong devotion to music. She was nine and a student at the Ogontz School (now located at Rydal, Pa.) from where she was graduated in 1910 as Class Poet and was singled out by her classmates as the "most talented" member of her class. She returned to Switzerland for three years of piano-study in the Conservatory in Geneva and in recent years proved the depth of her training by editing all of the musical references for the American edition of Thomas Mann's Doctor Faustus.

For graciously combining "imagination, enthusiasm and wisdom" in Princeton's service; for strengthening the conviction of many that "music makes people milder and gentler;" for understanding that true art in any form "shall be an act of love toward humanity" and never something designed for the selected few; she is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for Anti-Climax Enacted. The house lights went down, the trumpets blared, the dramatic announcement was made—but the stage remained bare and action failed to follow. That, in effect, was the result first achieved by the press agentry surrounding announcement of the success of the Salk anti-polio vaccine.

Public reaction to the indefinite delay of inoculation of first and second-grade school children was perfectly calm—coming simply as acceptance of the fact that the polio season does not normally begin in New Jersey until July or August and that even June will be time enough to administer the vaccine. The fact remained, however, that all of the plans for distributing the available supply had been shelved within a brief fortnight after the first dramatic announcement had been made.

Parents had completed forms requesting immunization for their children and the vaccine was to be administered this week. New Jersey had none, however — one report indicating that the supply originally marked for the State had gone to Ohio. Borough Health Officer David T. Blake said he felt the southern states were also on the priority list because of earlier spread of the disease in warmer climates.

Emphasizing that there is "no reason to become alarmed" at the temporary delay in inoculation plans here, Mr. Blake said that Princeton will be notified "as soon as the vaccine reaches New Jersey." He also noted that distribution of the drug began in Bucks County, Pa., on Tuesday, "which may mean that we don't have long to wait."

Contrary to some of the many and conflicting reports that have been circulating in the recent excitement about the vaccine Freeholder Edward A. Thorne, Nassau Street druggist, reports that he knows of no way for pharmacists to obtain the drug for private use. He also feels that "no pharmacist in the country has the vaccine yet."

Mr. Thorne pointed out that the present plan for distriubtion by the National Foundation calls for the free inoculation of first and second grade school children with the first two shots. Additional supplies have been designated for use by pediatricians and general practitioners, who will be billed through their local drug stores. This is the only contact the druggists will have with the vaccine for some time, Mr. Thorne indicated.

Dr. Alfred D. Summers, pediatrician and Township Schools physician, said that no new plans have been made for administration of the drug to Township first and second graders. As to the report that doctors in New Jersey are getting small quantities of the drug for use on their personal patients, Dr. Summers stated that he had not tried to obtain any of the vaccine himself, and did not know where to get any if he wanted it.

With an eye to possible black market selling of the Salk vaccine, the New Jersey Legislature is working out provisions to curb such activities. A bill calling for fines up to $5,000 and two years in prison for violators has been passed by the Senate. The Assembly still must act on it.

Mr. Blake said that he has "no knowledge" of any black marketing of the drug in this area. Mr. Blake, Mr. Thorne and doctors in the Princeton area have reported that they have not been bothered with the large number of phone calls that are plaguing doctors and druggists in other areas.

Again the Blackout

In death as in life, a news blackout surrounded Dr. Albert Einstein, once the tremendous facts of last Monday flashed around the world.

Column after column on every public aspect of the great physicist's life, with its many overtones, was rushed into print, but when newsmen struggled for additional copy as the week progressed, they met a blank wall. The final word, on one subject, from Princeton Hospital administrator John W. Kauffman:

"At the request of Dr. Einstein's family, no further reports or statements pertaining to the deceased scientist's vital organs will be released either by Princeton Hospital, or by any individual associated with the Hospital. At some later date the study, which is being carried forward by Dr. Thomas S. Harvey in consultation with other pathologists, may be published as a report in a scientific journal."

Board Issues Plan. The Township board of education, after further study and consideration of comments at its public hearing, this week issued a statement on the proposed new Littlebrook School which showed slight variations in the original plans to distribute pupils. Noting that the possibility of at least two additional classrooms at Valley Road is now being explored, the board's statement read in part:

"As far as actual arrangement of classes can be projected at this time, Littlebrook is visualized as initially serving kindergarten through grade five of children living to the general area, plus children living west of some line to be determined by the school authorities (A line roughly north and south at point between Bayard Lane and Witherspoon Street is being considered at the present time.)

"Valley Road School would contain all sections of grades six, seven, and eight plus some sections of one through five, the latter sections made up of children living in the central area.

"The Board considers the above plan has the following advantages:

"1) It is a logical and economical step toward a system of "neighborhood" elementary schools, the term "neighborhood" connoting a series of school buildings, each of which will serve a section of the Township, and to which the majority of the students can walk.

"2) The above plan provides for the most efficient use of Township School facilities as they they will exist for the next few years.

"3) It allows the utmost flexibility in fitting changing grade sizes to available classrooms, and in planning for the ultimate development of the school system.

"4) It provides desirable separate facilities in classrooms and play areas for primary children.

"5) It reduces the number of children needing transportation. The building of additional schools will further reduce transportation, but owing to the shape of the Township some degree of transportation may always be necessary.

"7) Any semblance of segration is avoided by integrating the negro children into the student body."

During the preparation by the architects of the preliminary plans and estimates, teachers, school administration, and residents of the community who have special interest or qualifications will be consulted.

After the preliminary plans are drawn, the board will hold a public hearing. Voters of the Township will eventually be asked to approve a bond issue to meet the cost of the program.

Mrs. Roberts to Resign. The Borough board of education accepted with regret on Tuesday night the resignation of Mrs. Esther Roberts, effective June 1.

Mrs. Roberts' appointment by the board as a teacher of a class for handicapped children to be established at the Witherspoon School was the reason for her request. The question of a successor to fill out her term is under consideration.

On the basis of a letter from Mrs. Hadley Cantril, PTA president, and comments from Mrs. C. McKim Norton, the board voted with interest to spend $200 towards the musical appearances of Young Audiences next year.

It was decided to award only prizes of $100 or more at the commencement exercises, while listing all of the increasing final honors and awards in the commencement program. Other prizes will be awarded at the closing assembly.

Certificates for past members of the board are now being distributed. They will go to Mrs. Elizabeth H. Cawley, Carlos Baker, William B. Applegate, C. Herbert Davison, Harry A. Farr, II, C. Littleton Groom, Mrs. Sarah B. Grover, Mrs. Julia Higgins, Mrs. Janet Jepsen, Wilbur F. Kerr, George Loos Jr., T. C. Roberts Jr., Edward B. Snook, Mrs. Stella Silvester, Albert M. Wert and Cyrus Young Jr.

It's New to Us

Coats and Cottons . . . are both equally useful this changeable time of year, when a cool rainy morning may work itself into a hot-tempered afternoon. To meet the weatherman more than half-way, Rosette Pennington has in its Shopping Center shop, some handsome spring raincoats starting at $18 and ranging to $30.

The lower-priced one that we saw was an aqua corduroy top-coat (beige, if you prefer) with a narrowly striped lining, and a corduroy hat to match the coat. For $30, there is a poplin coat of charcoal lined with plaid and featuring a wide spreading collar that shows off the lining. A shoe-string leatherette belt holds it in.

Black Watch or Harris tweed—either one makes a well-cut conventional raincoat that might go out on a cool dry day and feel quite at home. The coat, in aqua or pink poplin, has a floral lining and a poplin hat to match.

If temperature and not rainfall is a consideration, there are short toppers at Rosette Pennington in navy, white, pastels and a pleasant natural shade that characterizes a basket-weave coat. All toppers are wool, by the way.

Cottons with short-sleeved cardigans are popular everywhere and Rosette Pennington has a fine collection. Here's a navy (or white) dress with a print that turns out to be floral letters of the alphabet. The print serves as lining for a white orlon sweater. (White dress has navy sweater.)

A white pique has pale blue or pink sweater with flowers sewn on through their centers. A green print in small geometric designs has a white sweater trimmed with the same. These sweater dresses begin at $17.95, and cottons generally start at $12.

We liked the cotton suits displayed on the Pennington racks. Navy or black and white checks with white linen collar. . .grey cotton with checked trim. . .small textured squares with a linen collar. . .grey and white pin-check with red-lined jacket and white linen cuffs trimmed with black.

Handsomest spring suit in our opinion is a navy (grey) silk shantung dress with the tiny cap sleeve so many women prefer, a wide neck and a modest trim of white linen piping on the bodice. It has a high waist covered with a brief jacket whose white piping matches the dress trim.

For your first dip, look at Pennington's swim suits, in bloomer, boxy short or skirt styles starting at $8.95. For $9 you may buy a packaged set consisting of Bermuda shorts, belt, sleeveless shirt and stretch sox. Many patterns offered for your choice.

In the blouse racks, summer cottons are sleeveless or made with very short sleeves, and the print blouses are designed to go with plain shorts, like the khakis for example.

Dress blouses for a spring suit are organdy or handkerchief linen, some finely embroidered. White dacron also offers possibilities for spring wear.

Suit Dunk. While we are on the subject of dacron, we invite you to consider a new suit at Harry Ballot's, 20 Nassau. This is a man's summer suit made of dacron — 75% — and long-staple Egyptian cotton. It resembles a smooth line cotton cord in appearance, and comes in light tan, light blue, charcoal brown or charcoal grey at $39.75.

With these vital statistics out of the way, we may proceed to the warp and woof of the matter: this suit is completely washable, by hand or machine. Throw it into a washing machine, use luke-warm water, and mild soap, do not spin or wring it dry.

Hang it on a wooden hanger to drip dry and tomorrow you have a clean suit. Can you imagine a better travel companion? It can also be spotted, if that's all it needs, and it's crease resistant.

The same dacron-cotton mix appears in button-down or sports shirts with short sleeves. These light-weights come in plain colors, pastels and white.

Turn on the Lantern. For your first summer terrace party, buy a collection of Japanese lanterns at Nassau Interiors and hang them in your garden like fireflies. The most spectacular one they have at 162 Nassau is four feet long, a —Continued on Page 20

Lottery Law to Be Tested. The New Jersey state lottery law will be tested on May 10 if a complaint currently made against L. Bamberger & Co. is taken into court by Princeton Township police. Magistrate Louis R. Gerber, who will hear the case unless it is formally presented to the Mercer County grand jury, said that the alleged violation of the law is based on advertising circulars mailed from Bamberger's Newark store to various parts of the state.

One received by Mrs. James Campbell, Jr. of 440 Franklin Avenue, wife of the township chief of police is reportedly being made the test case. Mr. Gerber declared that the complaint was made because the department store advertised that the recipent of the circular would become eligible for a drawing on an automobile, a freezer, a mink stole and a television set by taking the portion of the circular with his name on it to Bamberger's Shopping Center branch.

Chief Campbell is the complainant in the matter, with Joseph Chiara, assistant manager at Bamberger's Princeton store, formally notified of the municipality's action, Mr. Gerber said. The magistrate added that "the matter was referred to county prosecutor Mario Volpe for a ruling and the complaint was initated upon advice from him that the circular appeared to violate New Jersey's anti-lottery law."

Township officials reportedly told Bamberger's last fall that they felt a similar mailing was illegal. Counsel for the Newark department store, it is understood, contends otherwise. Bamberger officials here and in Newark had no immediate comment this week.

Robbers at Work. A parking yard on Jackson Street has been the scene of one robbery and another such attempt that was frustrated, borough police reported this week. A "mugging" was also reported near Margerum Court.

Braxton Ellerbe, 45, 110 Witherspoon Street, told police that he was beaten and robbed of $381. The sum represented rental money collected from tenants of the Cloy Street housing project.

Police quoted Ellerbe as saying that he was attacked by the man while on his way to deposit the money in the bank. He spent 48 hours in Princeton Hospital last week recovering from a blow on the head. Patrolmen John Markusun and Ralph Panicaro are investigating. Police added that a year ago, Ellerbe reported the loss of rental money he had collected in similar fashion for the Housing Authority and that the sum was later recovered.

Last Saturday night, Mrs. Robert Higgins of Lawrenceville was walking to her car in the Jackson Street lot when a man attempted to snatch her pocketbook, she told police. He was unable to wrest it from her, or to rip off her wristwatch, she said. She was unable to give police a description of the thief. Mrs. Higgins' husband operates a tavern on Witherspoon Street.

Tuesday was marked by a reported "mugging" of Lloyd Banks, Jr., of 1 Margerum Court. He told Patrolman Daniel Hagadorn and Sergeant Randolph Applegate that two men had knocked him down near his home and robbed him of $4.

Court Action. Bernard Rivera, 83 Prospect Avenue, was fined $30 on Tuesday by Magistrate Paul R. Chesebro for driving a car without a license. Fined for speeding were Miss June Bernard, Canal Road, and Mrs. Galya Sosnick, 223-B Marshall Street, $7 each. Hamilton Gregg, Mercer Road, paid $5 for passing a red traffic signal.

Those paying sums ranging from $3 to $8 for failing to renew their registrations included:

Hubert Alyea, 4 College Road; Mrs. Constance Morris, Rosedale Road; Leonard Newton, 44 Stanworth Lane (who also was fined for displaying his plates improperly); Mrs. Sally Ely, 117 Mercer Street; Sidney Verba, 1 Evelyn Place; George Anthony, 150 Cleveland Lane; Mrs. Helen S. Prentiss, Griggstown; Frank Berger, 227 Prospect Avenue; Benjamin Houston, 27 Random Road.

Also, Ernest T. DeWald, 76 Library Place; Doniel S. Trifon, 411-B Devereux Avenue; Mrs. Mollie K. Schroeder, 27 Stony Stanworth Drive; Stanley Seeger, 13 Edgehill Street; Peter Auger, 156 Spruce Street; Mrs. Alice Allen, 168 Harrison Street; Arthur Kamitsuka, 38 Alexander

Two Hurt in Crash. Alexander Simon of Georges Road, New Brunswick, was seriously injured Friday morning when the car he was driving into Princeton struck a telephone pole near the corner of Nassau Street and Cedar Lane. Mr. Simon, manager of Davidson's Supermarket at 172 Nassau Street, was taken to Princeton Hospital, where he is recovering from two fractured vertebrae.

Mr. Simon told police that another car had cut him off and that he had swerved sharply to avoid a collision. The pole was broken by the impact. Allan Samuels, also of New Brunswick, a passenger in the car with Mr. Simon, was treated at Princeton Hospital for a minor leg injury.

Rummage Sale Next Week. The annual spring Hospital Aid rummage sale, a Princeton institution, is scheduled for next week. The sales, increasing in size each year and raising in excess of $5000 for Princeton Hospital, will be spread over four days at the Chambers Street firehouse.

Conducted by the 75-member Hospital Aid Committee, the sale will run from Monday through Thursday, but only furniture and rugs will be sold the first two days. Shoes, toys, books, lamps, kitchenware and pictures will be offered Wednesday, while Thursday will again be the big day, with clothing, draperies, china and all other articles on sale at 9:30 a.m.

The committee has requested that contributions be brought to the firehouse not later than Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. M. A. Mather (tel. 3016) should be contacted to arrange collection of heavy furniture.

"Ready on the Right!"

Minor warfare of a noisy but harmless variety will come to Princeton Wednesday afternoon when blank ammunition is fired from 105-mm. howitzers on Fitzpatrick Field near Palmer Stadium. The occasion will be a part of the annual Spring Review staged by the University's Army R.O.T.C. Battalion.

Included in the affair will be 300 members of the cadet battalion, a mounted color guard and a cadet horse troop. Music will be provided by the 25th Army Band from Camp Kilmer. The firing demonstration will climax the show, Lt. Col. Claude H. Purkitt, Professor of Military Science, has announced.

Contest Opens. An all-expense tour for two to Mexico is the prize offered in contest now being sponsored by Davidson's Supermarket, 172 Nassau Street. Flying via American Airlines, the winners will spend eight days touring the colorful country and visiting many of its famous cities and resort spots.

Most of the trips within Mexico will be made by car. Among the stops on the comprehensive itinerary are Mexico City, Cuernavaca, Acapulco, Cholula and Puebla.

To enter the contest, it is merely necessary to obtain an official entry blank at Davidson's and complete in 25 words or less the sentence, "I like to shop at Davidson's because . . . .". There is no limit to the number of entries each person may make.

The contest closes May 19. For complete information, see the advertisement on pages 8 and 9.

Staff Increased. Charles B. Saunders, Jr., former assistant director of public relations at Trinity College, has joined the department of public information at Princeton University.

A member of the Princeton Class of 1950, Mr. Saunders was a political reporter for the Ogdensburg, N. Y. Journal and a member of the staff of the Hartford Times before going to Trinity. At Princeton, he was editor of the Nassau Sovereign and a member of the Orange Key.

Council Plans Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the Council of Community Services will be held next Thursday, May 5, at 8 p.m. in the assembly room of the First Presbyterian Church. Lawrenceville Topics Lawrenceville Cleanup May 7. The successful clean-up campaign first held in 1954 will be staged again in Lawrence Township in May, with Lawrenceville scheduled to be included in the first campaign day, Saturday, May 7.

Along with Lawrenceville, Longacres, Rosedale, Bakers Basin, Clarksville and other areas in the northern district from Little Shabakunk Creek to the Princeton Township line will be included in the May 7 campaign. The southern district will be covered May 14 and the central district May 21.

All Lawrence residents have been urged to take advantage of the opportunity to clean up yards, cellars, attics and other areas, eliminating fire hazards and unsightly accumulations of trash.

Where possible, trash should be placed along the street where it can be seen and loaded on trucks. Exceptionally large collections should be reported to the Municipal Building (EXport 3-7049) and special pick-up arrangements will be made. Those hauling their own trash should go to the service station at Drift Avenue and Eggerts Road where they will receive further directions.

Committeeman Lloyd A. Carver is serving as honorary chairman for the campaign. The committee includes Charles F. Hirsch and John L. Philkill, co-chairmen; Mrs. Lloyd A. Carver, Mrs. Albert H. Rees, Mrs. Harriet Baker, Langston Burrell, William Walker, Homer Rogers, Owen Healey, John J. Combs and Augustus C. Brown.

Another Meeting on Blood. Civic and fraternal groups and other organizations in Lawrenceville have been asked to see that they are represented at a meeting this Tuesday at 8 in the Municipal Building to consider a Blood Bank for Lawrence Township.

A regular blood donor and supply program is the objective, providing a way of making the life-saving aid available immediately and without charge to all residents.

The first open meeting (last week) was poorly attended and full voluntary cooperation is needed to get the program in operation.

Dr. Stanley B. Apple and Dr. David A. Fluck are expected to attend the meeting on the project. Arrangements have been made by W. H. DeRoxtro.

Municipal Notes. Mrs. Della Nash, the Township's clerk, announced at last week's meeting of the Township Committee that she plans to retire on September 1.

Mayor J. Russell Smith remains in McKinley Hospital with a fractured skull. Committeeman David Sloan is serving as acting mayor.

Republicans out-numbered Democrats in the Township's uncontested, lightly-voted primaries. Mrs. Dorothy Pilla led the G.O.P. slate with 244 votes, while Mrs. Nellie Buxton, incumbent and Mrs. Pilla's Democratic opponent in the race for tax collector, polled 180 to lead her ticket.

Periwig Show Next Week. "And Away He Run," an original musical comedy with a theme of kidnapping, will open for two nights, next Thursday and Friday, in McCarter Theatre in Princeton. It's the annual offering of the Lawrenceville School's Periwig Club.

Eleven musical numbers are included and the complete book show varies the revue style of recent years. Tickets may be obtained through Garrett Hunter of Griswold House, Lawrenceville School, or by calling TWinoaks 6-0105. Further details will be carried here next week.

News of the Theatres

THE PLAYHOUSE

East of Eden (April 28 - 30) is the gripping drama made by Elia Kazan from the latter portions of John Steinbeck's novel. The story of the struggle of two sons in 1917 California for the love of their father (with full Biblical overtones) is a superbly produced film, outstanding in all departments.

James Dean, Julie Harris, Raymond Massey, Richard Davalos, Jo Van Fleet, Albert Dekker and others contribute a stirring display of acting. The filming in CinemaScope and color is remarkable.

Underwater (May 1 - 3) has a routine sunken treasure chest story embellished by excellent Technicolor photography, the best of it underwater, naturally. Gilbert Roland, Jane Russell, Richard Egan and Joseph Calleia play their exciting submarine scenes well.

The Long Gray Line (May 4-10) tells in sentimental and appealing fashion the lively story of colorful Sgt. Marty Maher, assistant athletic instructor at West Point for a half-century. Director John Ford has poured plenty of richness, humor and detail into the film, aided by fine performances from Tyrone Power, Maureen O'Hara, Robert Frances and many others. Handsome filming in Technicolor and CinemaScope. Here for a week, with special time schedule.

THE GARDEN

Sabrina (April 28) is a most amusing filming of the gauzy Cinderella story, one that is filled with liberal amounts of laughter and delightful acting by Audrey Hepburn, Humphrey Bogart, William Holden and others.

Captain Lightfoot (April 29-30) is an elaborate swashbuckler, untroubled by much thought or plot logic. Rock Hudson, Barbara Rush, Jeff Morrow and Kathleen Ryan participate in a story of Irish revolt against British rule in 1815. Plenty of action, fisticuffs, rural and Dublin scenery shot in CinemaScope and Technicolor.

Tonight's the Night (May 2-4) is a heavily slapsticked lampoon of the Irish (made by the British), centering on a plot by village inhabitants to get rid of the scoundrel heir to the local castle. The humor is too broad to be witty. David Niven, Yvonne De Carlo and Barry Fitzgerald are the principals. A lavish Technicolor job.

Animal Farm (May 5-7) presents George Orwell's biting satire of life on a totalitarian farm in daring but necessary cartoon form. The Louis de Rochemont production is adult in theme, well made, and aided by fine British animation, and Technicolor. Not a cartoon for small children. Playing with it is the documen-

This Article Should Be Read By Everyone Purchasing a Car

An evil known as "packs" has found its way into the car business and is used to confuse you, the customer.

So, when considering price, don't be misled by the over-allowance for your car. Instead, consider the difference that you will have to pay with a clear understanding that the price includes the accessories you desire.

Before you buy a new car, drive the cars that appeal to you most. Compare all features and decide which car impresses you most.

Then when placing your order with your chosen dealer, be sure the order includes the following break-down.

1. Factory F. O. B. Price
2. Federal Tax
3. Freight (Average $75 - $95)
4. H & D (If this figure is normal your dealer will gladly justify)
5. List and Price individually of accessories

"There is hardly anything in the world that some man cannot make a little worse and sell a little cheaper and the people who consider price only are this man's lawful prey"—Ruskin. These people frequently fall prey to misrepresentative selling.

FILM CLASSIC SERIES

The spring series of film classics presented by Group Arts will offer the famous thriller "The 39 Steps" next Friday, May 6. The film is virtually the cornerstone of Alfred Hitchcock's unusual reputation as a director of mysteries and melodramas.

Showings are at 7 and 9 p.m. in McCosh Hall 50 on the Princeton University campus. Tickets may be purchased at the door before either show.

Wait 'Til Next Year. A session last week convinced former and prospective University Players personnel that a season this summer in Murray Theatre will not be possible. So plans for this year have been abandoned and instead work will be started immediately in the direction of a full, carefully-organized 1956 season.

Though the planners (headed by Philip Minor) had gotten as far as budgeting, considering actors, and thinking tentatively of opening with "The Cherry Orchard" and closing with "Romeo and Juliet," they felt that a basic obstacle could not be overcome.

Thorough organization many months before the first line was memorized made possible the excellent University Players seasons of recent years. This year, time is lacking as well as much of the top on-the-spot personnel needed to do the job.

Mr. Minor, Charles Schultz and Herndon Werth were involved in the discussion of the Players future, the latter two having been the moving force behind the recent organization and Mr. Minor one of the chief performers.

The upshot was that Morton Goolde, current president of Theatre Intime, will proceed (with their assistance) with his plans to produce a season in the summer of 1956. Mr. Goolde is expected to be joined by Bradley Susman, who is also active in Intime.

Groundwork will be laid this summer, which may make possible a season longer than the eight weeks originally planned. Another major consideration is the condition of Murray Theatre and the financial arrangements to be made for improvements such as air conditioning.

JAMES DEAN: Star of the drama "East of Eden," currently completing a week at The Playhouse.

THEATRE INTIME

Carlotta Sherwood, Mary Gonzales, Ben D. Piazza and Alexander C. McNally will share the spotlight in Theatre Intime's forthcoming spring production, William Congreve's "Love for Love." The Restoration comedy of manners will be presented for a run (May 4-15) starting next weekend.

Curtain time in Murray Theatre will be 8:30. Tickets (at $1.50 and $1.80 Monday-Thursday, $1.80 and $2 Friday-Saturday) are now available by mail or at the Princeton University Store (tel. 3333).

Miss Sherwood (Mrs. Paul Benacerraf) will be making her local bow when she appears as the romantic heroine Angelica. She has appeared on "Robert Montgomery Presents," "Philco Playhouse," "Suspense" and "Martin Kane" in television, has starred with a number of stock companies, and toured with the national company of "Dear Brutus" opposite Brian Aherne.

Mrs. Gonzales scored on exceptional success as the Citizen's Wife in the winter Intime production of "The Knight of the Burning Pestle." A veteran of

Music in Princeton

PRINCETON SYMPHONY

The year's major undertaking by the Princeton Symphony Orchestra, reinforced by the efforts of dozens of musicians and others in the Princeton area, will be on display this Friday and Saturday evenings in McCarter Theatre with the production of Roger Sessions' opera in one act, "The Trial of Lucullus," along with Monteverdi's "Il Combattimento di Tancredi e Clorinda."

Curtain time for the long-anticipated event will be 8:30. Remaining tickets are on sale at the Princeton University Store (tel. 3335) and at the box office Friday and Saturday evenings.

The program is under the musical direction of Nicholas Harsanyi, conductor of the Princeton Symphony, while the operas have been staged by Kurt Graff, who was formerly associated with the Berlin and Essen state opera houses. Settings have been designed and executed by Hugh Hardy; while a host of organizations, institutions and individuals have taken part in the production.

Robert Simpson, teacher of voice at Westminster Choir College, will appear in the title role of "Lucullus." Other major roles in the dual program will be sung by Fadlou Shehadi, Rachel Armstrong, Martha Long, Edgar Jones, Paul Oncley, Phyllis Evans, Janice Harsanyi, Herbert Pate, James Dellert, Lois Laverty, George Trautwein and Marvin Burke.

Mr. Sessions' opera, being performed for the first time in the Eastern U. S., tells the story of the trial of the soul of the Roman general Lucullus. A jury composed of the spirits of a farmer, a teacher, a baker, a fishwife and a courtesan will decide whether a conqueror will be admitted to the Elysian Fields or to Hades.

The libretto for the opera, which will be sung in English, was written by Bertold Brecht originally as a radio drama. An indictment of the spirit of conquest, it was broadcast by Swiss radio during the invasion of Poland in 1939. Mr. Brecht also adapted "The Three-Penny Opera" with music by Kurt Weill, which was successfully revived in New York last year.

The Monteverdi libretto for "Il Combattimento di Tancredi e Clorinda" is from Tasso's "Jerusalem Delivered." The music tells of the mortal combat between Tancred, a knight, and Clorinda, a warrior-maid.

UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

The 25th annual concert in memory of Elizabeth Milbank Anderson will be presented this Sunday at 4:30 in the University Chapel. Nearly 200 singers and instrumentalists, including the University Chapel Choir and the Bryn Mawr Chorus, will perform under the direction of Dr. Carl Weinrich.

The group will perform Paul Hindemith's "When Lilacs Last in the Door-yard Bloom'd." Called a Requiem for "Those We Love," the work is based on Walt Whitman's poem on the death of Lincoln. Soloists for the performance will be Mona Paulee, mezzo-soprano, and Mac Morgan, baritone.

MORE VALUE!...

THAN ANY OTHER CAR IN THE LOW-PRICE 3! HERE'S WHY—

Because Plymouth is the biggest car in the low-price 3, and also has the newest styling, you'll see more glamor outside, more luxury inside, when you inspect this great new car.

And when you step inside you'll find more comfort, too, because Plymouth is the roomiest car of the low-price 3—with the most comfortable seats, most leg room, most hip room, the largest trunk. The glamorous new Full-View windshield gives you the greatest visibility, because it's swept back at the sides.

Now, for the greatest thrill of all, take the wheel and drive the new Plymouth. The thriftiest, smoothest six of "all 3," the high-compression PowerFlow 117, or the new 167-hp Hy-Fire, most powerful standard V-8, leaps to action at the turn of the key. On the road, you'll enjoy the smoothest ride in the lowest-price field—the steady, even ride only a truly big car, like Plymouth, can give you.

These are a few of the reasons why value-wise buyers are choosing the big, beautiful Plymouth when they look at "all 3" this year. But why not see for yourself? See and drive a new Plymouth today!

WHY PAY UP TO $500 MORE FOR A CAR SMALLER THAN PLYMOUTH?

Don't be fooled by the claims of so-called medium-price cars that they cost practically the same as Plymouth. When you compare price tags you'll find that, model for model, Plymouth sells for much, much less than medium-price cars, and gives you more car for your money!

tube of cream colored paper with a wide black band at top and bottom. It shuts like an accordion and pulls out into a full four feet. Candle holder in the bottom.

Others are globes, some as large as 36 inches in diameter, or eggs as large as a dinosaur egg. They start at $2.30 and stop at about $3.95. Could be electrified, if your indoor decorating scheme would allow.

For the most formal Victorian living-rooms, Nassau Interiors now has alabaster lamps, some as tall as two feet, without fixture or shade. One is a warm rose-beige, graceful and slim; another is pure white, modeled after the Greek, a third is marble (this is really marble, of course; not a plastic copy). There are several designs, some quite Victorian in their richness of detail, others tending more to the classic.

Any modern living-room could use a column of oyster white pottery that turns out to be a vase. There is a match for it that's square instead of cylindrical.

France exports some lovely glassware for anyone whose favorite color is blue. These pieces are simply designed, without ornament, and apparently made by some hand process that produces a slightly different shade of blue with each piece, although the predominant shade is the clear strong blue of a summer sky. There are powder jars, a goblet, sherbets, a large stoppered decanter, a flat compote and a series of apothecary jars.

The old-fashioned apothecary jar pops up again, exactly like the old ones to the last gold swirl, but labeled for today with "Aspirin", "Vitamins", and "Bandaid."

Japanese tea drinkers have shared with Americans their tattan tea cozy, lined with printed quilted fabric to keep the tea hot. There is an oval cozy at $7.95 and a round one for $3.95, each large enough to hold almost any size pot.

Furniture at Nassau Interiors this season is light enough for indoors or outdoors. We liked a birch "camp chair" that looks like the folding kind, but is actually rigid. It has a full back of cane and a cane seat $36.

For a more rustic setting there is a set consisting of an end table, an ice-cream parlor chair and a stool. Each is made of polished walnut slats, contoured in the case of chair and stool. The dark brown finish of the walnut contrasts quietly with the back iron legs that hold it all up.

A new couch for modern rooms is wide, with arms and brass legs. Remove its bolsters, and there is a comfortable foam rubber bed. There are several choices in the fabric—including an unusual one of quarter-inch squares vividly matched in such colors as navy and kelly green. There's a chair that harmonizes nicely with the couch.

Bare Outline. The Grace people who make children's clothes have sent to The Little Clothes Line (57 Palmer Square West) a collection of charming toddler's playclothes, each one decorated on the right leg with an outline embroidery of an animal—a fat, idealized nursery-style horse, a hobby horse, a duck, a puppy waving a banner, and some others we may have missed.

They adorn a one-piece sleeveless playsuit that has a pastel striped binding on its denim surface. There is a pair of bib overalls in blue and white check with a short-sleeved blue overblouse that buttons onto the trousers. The collar is checked.

A grown-up pedal pusher in sailing blue denim is made like a sailor suit with collar and tie of rust and white stripe. A bib crawler is also sailor style, with blue and white blouse, a sailor collar and a red bow tie. These play clothes, all in denim, are made for sizes up to 24 months.

An infant's nightgown in fine white lawn is made like great-grandpa's night-shirt. A similar cut has been used on a pinse gown for slightly older children.

All little girls, up to size 14, will instantly want The Little Clothes Line's new pinse summer pajamas, made with very short lace-edged bloomers and abbreviated tops that almost, but not quite, come to the edge of the bloomer. They are pastel, or white with pink or blue rosebuds, and they are trimmed with enough lace and nylon ruffling to make a princess out of any tom-boy. The top price is $3.95, and some are $2.95.

Cole of California outfits all mermaids in a collection of suits printed with strawberries, roosters, jacks and a ball, "Busy as a B", or just plain rosebuds. Some have pants under a full skirt, others are pants suits. There is even a stack of ruffled separate shorts for those little girls who disdain a top.

stage and radio, she has also appeared here for the Community Players. She will play Mrs. Frail in "Love for Love."

Mr. Piazza, retiring president of Intime, will be seen as the male lead, Valentine. Mr. McNally is cast as the astrologer Foresight.

Worthy Ones. Intime's annual extra spring enterprise, the bill of three student-written one-act plays, again proved worthwhile, comparing favorably with all of the one-act evenings presented in recent years. Each of the three plays chosen had genuine merit, either of script, acting or production.

Clement Cohen's "Shark Reflections" opened the playbill on an earnest note. Despite verbal flaws and the difficulty of compressing his theme into an act, Mr. Cohen's work seemed genuine and attained some intensity, chiefly through the acting of Peter Nicolls and Diana Godolphin, whose parts held together a somewhat shaky production (one that was continually hampered by lighting irregularities.).

Charles A. Fried's "La Joconde" benefitted from sharp handling by Tom Barry, Fred Wardenburg and Murray Cion. Mr. Fried's opening was witty and promising, his main dialogue clever and sophisticated and his net effect thoroughly dull, barring the efforts of his performers.

Patrick J. Smith's farce "At the Gates" certainly deserved this year's prize. A bubbling production made the most of his amusing ideas and contained the evening's acting gem, Jack Schlegal's work as an eccentric St. Peter.

Mr. Schlegel was most skillful and he was backed up by a generally amusing job by John Stearns as a poet-celestial messenger and by all members of the supporting cast. The chief problem was that Mr. Smith's invention faded slightly in finding a con-

GOING UP AGAIN: A double-barrelled interruption has thrown the construction schedule for the Township Hall addition out of whack, but estimates now are that the work can go on to completion in normal fashion. Edward B. Van Note Jr., township engineer, reports that discovery of a spring in the excavation proved an unforeseen difficulty, but that laying of storm drain to the creek across State Road (expected to be completed this week) will take care of it. The fact that the steel beams were 2½ feet higher than they should have been was remedied by a trip back to the steel mill for sawing. The urgently-needed addition will cost $120,000. The production of the mystery comedy will run May 19-21 and again May 25-28 in Murray Theatre on the University Campus. Tickets for the two Wilson College benefit performances may by reserved by contacting Miss Louise Howell, chairman of arrangements, at 16 Boudinot Street (tel. 0471, evening). Regular ticket sales for the production will be conducted through the University store.

Stuart Duncan, president of the Players, in directing the current vehicle. Associated with Theatre Intime and the University Players during his undergraduate years at Princeton, Mr. Duncan has appeared in many local productions as well as serving as a director.

"Cuckoos on the Hearth" is described as a mystery-comedy, dealing with the activities of a group of spies who enter the home of a scientist in the hope of uncovering a new secret American weapon.

Short Notes. The Montgomery Community Players will present a Minstrel and Variety Show this Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. The show will be given at the Harlingen Church House and admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

Helen Hayes will present "Gentlemen, the Queen" next Saturday, May 7, at the Solebury School in New Hope, Pa. Because of limited seating, tickets have not been put on public sale for the performance, which will benefit the school's dramatic club and other activities.

Miss Hayes will play various queens from history and drama, including excerpts from "Victoria Regina," "Mary of Scotland" and "Macbeth," and the whole of "Catherine the Great." A half dozen supporting actors as well as Miss Hayes' son, James MacArthur (who is a student at Solebury) will appear in the program.

AMONG THE FIRST: Joel Schultz of Dempsey Avenue has already had Salk anti-polio shots. (See below).

caro and Mrs. T. Cuyler Young.

Mrs. E. Harris Harbison attended as a member of the YW's national board. Miss Ann Frances Higgs, Y-Teen program director, performed a dance at the opening session. The convention, drawing representatives of 1,300 U.S. YWCA unitts with three million members, centered on the theme "Our Task Today and Tomorrow". The gathering climaxed the centennial year of the YWCA.

Boy Has Had Salk Vaccine. One of the youngest residents in the Princeton area is the authority among his schoolmates on the Salk anti-polio shots which are due for Mercer County first and second graders in the near future.

Joel Schultz, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M.A. Schultz, 37 Dempsey Avenue, was inoculated with the Salk vaccine last year when he and his family lived in Pittsburgh. As a third-grader in Pittsburgh's Colfax school, he was one of a test group of 8,000 children who were selected for the inoculation. Mr. Schultz is currently on assignment from the Westinghouse Corporation at Princeton's University's Forrestal Laboratory. Joel, who has a younger brother, Stephen, is a pupil at the Valley Road School.

Dr. Jonas E. Salk administered the shots to pupils at the Colfax School, who were among the first in Pittsburgh to receive the vaccine. Joel had three shots in either arm over a six-week period and two blood tests in addition. He probably will have several more, so that polio researchers may study the effects of the vaccine.

Mr. and Mrs. Schultz say they felt privileged to have Joel take part in the tests and feel no qualms at all. They were acquainted with one of Dr. Salk's co-workers and were well informed about the progress being made in the development of the vaccine.

Subscription Record Set. A check for $1,000 has been turned over to the Princeton High School PTA scholarship committee, representing a record profit on the sale of nearly 700 magazine subscriptions.

Mrs. C. Stanley Green, chairman of the PTA's fund-raising committee which raises all its funds through magazine subscriptions and renewals, has been assisted by Mrs. S. M. Christian, vice-chairman; Mrs. L. S. Nergaard, treasurer; Mrs. D. O. North, secretary; Mrs. J. W. Miller, publicity, and Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. Walter Young, Mrs. James Arnold, Jr., and Mrs. Edwin Kimble.

Service Men's Notes. Pvt. George G. Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Carey, 245 Library Place, is at Camp Stewart, Ga., on field maneuvers with the 76th Tank Battalion.

A graduate of South Kent High School, Private Carey attended Middlebury College before entering the Army. He is at present a transportation specialist in the battalion's Headquarters and Service Company, a part of the 11th Airborne division stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky.

James M. St. George, seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew St. George of 95 Spruce Street, is serving in the Mediterranean. He is aboard the heavy cruiser USS Newport News, flagship of the 6th Fleet.

Prizes in the bean-guessing contest consisted of a baseball hat, glove and ball donated by Frederick Harris at the Shopping Center. These were won by Thomas Volz of Den 5, Seth Cedar of Den 6 and Christopher Baker of Den 5. Refreshments at the carnival included soft drinks and cookies provided by mothers of the pack.

Hole-in-One Contest Set. Hundreds of Princetonians, as well as contestants from many another community in New Jersey and nearby Pennsylvania and New York, are expected to take part in the annual hole-in-one tournament this weekend. Play will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday and Sunday mornings on a specially-built hole at the lower end of Springdale Road.

Arrangements now call for competition to continue into the night on Saturday, since the area will be floodlighted. A generator will be provided by the Princeton Junction Fire Department, with the Prince Chevrolet Co. providing transportation and Dr. Roger Holmes of the RCA Laboratories supervising the operation.

Prizes for the event are in one sense unlimited, since each hole-in-one will win $150 cash. The ball nearest the hole will receive a $150 merchandise certificate from L. Bamberger & Co.; some 50 other contestants whose shots come near the cup will have their choice of the prizes listed on page 10, with selection based on relative proximity to the hole.

Every entrant will pay $1 per shot, with balls to be supplied by Harry Kinnell, Springdale professional. Proceeds will benefit the Princeton Hospital, with the Women's Auxillary in charge of the event. The tournament is scheduled as a "pre-fete" event, with the gala fete itself set for June 4 at Palmer Stadium.

The Weekend Schedule. Princeton teams will be largely on the road this weekend, aiming to improve their standings in eastern competition. One is title-minded (Eddie Donovan's rejuvenated ball team); one is aiming to top the .500 mark in rugged competition (Ferris Thomsen's lacrosse team); and another (Dutch Schoch's crew) has hopes of springing an upset despite defeats in its first two outings.

The Tiger nine travels all the way to Hanover, N. H., to face Dartmouth Saturday. Along with Yale and Harvard, the Indians were leading the league with 2-0 marks when the week began but were scheduled to face Brown and Navy before Princeton. The Orange and Black took a 1-1 record in the circuit into the game.

The lacrosse team goes to West Point with better hopes of beating Army than it might have had at the start of the season. The cadets, national champions two years ago, are not the power they have been and last week lost to R.P.I. which in turn had lost to Princeton. The Tigers trimmed Johns Hopkins, 6-5, before 3,500 at Baltimore last Saturday but have lost Len Thomsen with a leg injury for the season.

Harvard, M.I.T. and Wisconsin will be Princeton's opposition in the Compton Cup regatta on the Charles River at Cambridge. The Tigers lost to Pennsylvania over the Henley distance (mile and 5/16) at Philadelphia last weekend, but have hopes that this race may see a change in their fortunes.

SOPHOMORE STANDOUT: Leigh Ford has a 3-0 record and an earned run average of .99 to date.

Penn rowed in front all the way, gradually increasing its margin until it led by nearly two lengths at the finish. The Quakers were able to understroke both Princeton and Columbia, the Orange and Black finishing ahead of the Lions by about a quarter of a length.

The victors' time was 6.36.3, with Princeton about eight seconds slower. Penn also took the jayvee race, with the Princeton freshmen winning theirs after coming from behind.

Crew, Tennis and Golf. Action at home this weekend will feature golf, tennis and a three-college regatta among 150-lb. crews on Lake Carnegie. Princeton's lightweights, who have their sights set on the national championship a number of them won two years ago as sophomores, will entertain M.I.T. and Cornell. The Tech 'fifties replaced the Tigers as the nation's best in 1954.

Coach John Steigman's boat whipped Columbia by four lengths last week without being extended. Saturday's event, involving the freshmen, jayvees and varsity crews of all three colleges, should make very worthwhile watching, particularly on a pleasant spring afternoon.

The time first announced for the events has been advanced by an hour. Thus the freshman race will start at 3:45; the junior varsities will row at 4:10, with the climactic event set for 4:30.

Tennis fans will find a full share of action on the Church Courts, with Navy providing the opposition at 2:30. The midshipmen are one of two major obstacles in the team's bid for a seventh straight eastern title, Yale ranking as the other.

Columbia, Colgate and Georgetown fell before Coach John Conroy's racket squad last week, the combined opposition taking only three of 27 matches played. The season's record is now 4-0.

Georgetown, usually quite strong, will face the golf team on the Springdale course at 2:30. Harry Kinnell's outfit won its first five matches, conquering Rutgers, Colgate and Haverford last week, and had a mid-week match with Lehigh.

power at the plate was finally provided last week by the Princeton baseball team. The Tigers played not only errorless but frequently sparkling defensive ball against both Navy and New York University, and when Leigh Ford and Jim Gibson turned in a pair of superb pitching performances, hairbreadth 1-0 victories were the result.

The week was climaxed with a 7-5 triumph over Seton Hall. By that time, errors had crept back into the act, three misplays marring the picture. However, a 12-hit attack that was good for 14 bases and a fine relief stint by Ford assuled the outcome.

It was Ford who put the Tigers back in the Ivy League race after their poor start against Brown. He made an unearned run the Princetonians got in their first time at bat stand up through out nine innings, the defeat snapping a nine-game winning streak that Navy built up over two seasons of league play.

Only two midshipmen reached second base, and Ford walked nary a batter, scattering six hits. The Tigers made only five, Easton getting three of them. It was the first of his solid blows that drove in Royce Flippin from second after the Tiger second baseman had gotten on through an infield error and advanced on Gordy Gray's sacrifice.

Three-Hitter for Gibson. Southpaw Jim Gibson walked the first two men to face him in the N.Y.U. game Friday and then settled back to pitch near-perfect ball. He throttled that threat, issued only one more pass in the game and did not allow a hit until one man had been retired in the seventh. He was touched for only three safeties in all, two of them of the infield variety.

Princeton scored the winning run in the ninth, but plate umpire Castleman saw the play differently than the crowd and both teams. With the bases full and one out, third baseman Hank Thomay sliced a sharp blow over first.

The ball raised a big cloud of chalk when it landed on the right field foul line. Castleman, however, called it a foul, telling assistant coach Jack Volz that "I didn't see enough chalk fly to suit me." It's still a question whether he knows that a ball landing on the line is fair.

Thomay then hit into a double-play, the Tigers going into the tenth to win. This time, Jim Perkins opened with a single and he and Gibson were both safe when base umpire Toff ruled that the throw to second on Gibson's bunt was late. It was almost as bad a call as that which had gone against the Tigers the inning before.

Flippin walked to fill the bases and with the N.Y.U. infield crowding the grass, Frank Mountcastle slapped a hit between third and short to bring Perkins across. Captain John Easton provided the top defensive play of the season in the seventh when he caught a fly in deep right center and threw out a runner trying to go from second to third after the catch on one hop.

Dick Emery's bat gave the Tigers enough leeway when Seton Hall knocked him out of the box in the seventh. Always a good man at the plate, Dick had whaled two long triples and a single in his first three times at bat, driving in three runs and scoring two more himself.

Princeton had a 7-0 lead when the visitors finally got to Emery, three walks and four hits combining with two errors to give Seton Hall five runs. Ford took over, retiring the first two men to face him with runners on first and third and allowing only one scratch hit in 2 2/3 innings.

The big (6-3) sophomore's excellent control seems a fine bet to keep Princeton in the league race if its fielding can remain steady. In 27 innings, he has compiled a great .99 earned run average.

PHS Extends Track Record. Princeton High School's track squad extended its unbeaten string to 49 straight dual meet victories over an eight-year span by defeating Trenton High, 62½ to 54½ last week. The contest was the opening dual meet for both squads.

Carl Brown and Frank Dimeglio took top honors in three events each to lead the Little Tigers to their narrow victory over the Tornados. Princeton registered a total of seven first places and tied for another against Trenton's five.

Brown scored his triumphs in the 120-yard high hurdles and the 180-yard low hurdles and won the high jump at five feet, six inches. Dimeglio placed first in the shot put, discus and javelin throw.

After a mid-week meet with Hamilton here, the Little Tigers will compete in the Penn Relays Saturday. Their next dual test will be against Long Branch High School here Tuesday.

PHS Wins, Loses One. Princeton High's baseball nine opened its 1955 season by defeating Ewing, 5-2, last Tuesday, but bowed to Trenton Catholic Friday, 8-3.

Little Tiger pitcher Ray Watson, who held Ewing to six hits in the PHS triumph, was given a three-run margin in the first inning which he never relinquished. First baseman Lee Ammerman and left fielder Frank Nini led the Tiger attack with two hits apiece. Ammerman registered four runs batted in.

Princeton in turn was held to six hits by Trenton Catholic's John Samonsky in Friday's contest. Ammerman again headed the Little Tiger offense with two safeties, but a double play in the top of the sixth frame cut short a Princeton rally after three runs were scored.

PHS faces Hamilton away this Thursday, journeying to Trenton again Monday for a game against Trenton High. The Little Tigers play their next home game against Long Branch May 13.

The Anderson Memorial Concert is sponsored each year by the Milbank Foundation, as a memorial to its founder, in whose honor the chancel of the University Chapel was given. Among the choirs which have joined with the Chapel Choir in previous concerts are those of Douglass College, Radcliffe, Sarah Lawrence, Bryn Mawr, Vassar, Wellesley and Smith.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained without charge at the music department, Clio Hall. Tickets will be honored until 3:20 p.m., when remaining seats will be made available to non-ticket-holders.

Mrs. Boyd to Judge Contest. Mrs. Mary Boxall Boyd of 44 Nassau Street is serving as chairman of the 1955 New York Debut-recital contest committee of the Leschetizky Association of America. This year's contest will be held Friday, May 6, at 10 a.m. in Steinway Hall, New York.

Among the many famous pianists who studied under Leschetizky were Paderewski, Ignatz Friedman, Alexander Brailowsky, Arthur Schabel, Douglas Boxall, John Powell and Mieczyslav Horszowski. Mrs. Boyd was a pupil of Leschetizky for two years in Vienna.
